Fairchild's Find:

Fairchild's National Directory and Digest, 1920 Fairchild's Lady Roseanna M. White, 2013-06-01 This bonus romantic novella is set in the intervening years between Ring of Secrets and Whispers from the Shadows by Roseanna M White In 1789 General Isaac Fairchild travels across the Channel on a very special assignment After surviving the American Revolution he is now gathering information on life at King Louis XVI's court But he must also locate a countess and her grown daughter and escort them back to England before revolution explodes in France He knows danger is in the task set before him but when he meets the beautiful Julienne a new peril beckons him deeper into the intrigue of Versailles

Fairchild's Daily News Record and Women's Wear National Directory and Digest of the Textile and Apparel Industries, 1920 Plantation Airs Brannon Costello, 2007-12-01 In Plantation Airs Brannon Costello argues persuasively for new attention to the often neglected issue of class in southern literary studies Focusing on the relationship between racial paternalism and social class in American novels written after World War II Costello asserts that well into the twentieth century attitudes and behaviors associated with an idealized version of agrarian antebellum aristocracy especially those of racial paternalism were believed to be essential for white southerners The wealthy employed them to validate their identities as aristocrats while less affluent whites used them to separate themselves from white trash in the social hierarchy Even those who were not legitimate heirs of plantation owning families found that putting on airs associated with the legacy of the plantation could align them with the forces of power and privilege and offer them a measure of authority in the public arena that they might otherwise lack Fiction by Zora Neale Hurston Eudora Welty William Faulkner Ernest Gaines Walker Percy and others reveals however that the racial paternalism central to class formation and mobility in the South was unraveling in the years after World War II when the civil rights movement and the South's increasing industrialization dramatically altered southern life Costello demonstrates that these writers were keenly aware of the ways in which the changes sweeping the South complicated the deeply embedded structures that governed the relationship between race and class He further contends that the collapse of racial paternalism as a means of organizing class lies at the heart of their most important works including Hurston's Seraph on the Suwanee and her essay The Pet Negro System Welty's Delta Wedding and The Ponder Heart Faulkner's The Mansion and The Reivers Gaines's Of Love and Dust and his story Bloodline and Percy's The Last Gentleman and Love in the Ruins By examining ways in which these works depict and critique the fall of the plantation ideal and its aftermath Plantation Airs indicates the richness and complexity of the literary responses to this intersection of race and class Understanding how many of the modern South's best writers imagined and engaged the various facets of racial paternalism in their fiction Costello confirms helps readers construct a more comprehensive picture of the complications and contradictions of class in the South Fairchild's International Magazine, 1926 Fairchild's hand-book of the digestive ferments as remedies, per se, as surgical solvents, and in the peptonisation of milk and other foods for the sick and
