

Meditations in an Emergency

By Cameron Awkward-Rich

I wake up & it breaks my heart. I draw the blinds

& the thrill of rain breaks my heart. I go outside.

I ride the train, walk among the buildings, men in Monday suits. The flight of doves, the city of tents beneath the underpass, the huddled mass, old women hawking roses, & children all of them, break my heart. There's a dream I have in which I love the world. I run from end to end like fingers through her hair. There are no borders, only wind.

Like you, I was born. Like you, I was raised in the institution of dreaming. Hand on my heart.

Hand

on my stupid heart.

Emergency Poems:

Emergency Poems Nicanor Parra,1972 Those who are familiar with Parra s work will find the humor more sharply honed and darker the anger closer to the surface and sometimes breaking through the language tighter the compassion deeper and the statements more political or anyway more social Emergency Poems Nicanor Parra,1977 Emergency Kit Jo Shapcott,Matthew Sweeney,1996 Emergency Kit is an anthology with many differences It is to begin with a book which gives prominence to poems rather than to the poets who wrote them It is truly international bringing together poems not just from these islands but from many parts of the English speaking world It is the first book to identify a strain in the poetry of the last half century which is characteristic of the strange times we live in an age when as the editors note scientific discovery itself has encouraged us to make free with the boundaries of realism It values imagination surprise vivid expression the outlandish and the playful above ideology and sententiousness It is in short living proof that poetry in the English language continues to thrive and to matter The Emergency Poet Deborah Alma,2025-09-25 We all have moments in which life can feel overwhelming This book presents a selection of poems that is designed to lift your mood Emergency poems Nicanor Parra,1977 Emergency Exit Xhevdet Bajraj,2020-04-23 [In an Emergency : \[poems\]](#). Meditations in an Emergency Frank O'Hara,1967 Originally published New York Grove Press 1957 Emergency Poems ,1994 A Life Lived Backwards Mark T. Creaven,2017-02-10 Mental health professionals are just starting to talk about and treat the long term effects of the trauma that emergency workers emergency medical technicians fire fighters first responders emergency room personnel live with every day Advanced Emergency Medical Technician AEMT Mark Creaven s therapy has been writing poetry And he writes good poetry at times lyrical at times harsh and painfully evocative always honest Mark s poetry is not just about the things he s seen in his long career as a first responder As he says When you re not in an ambulance you still have your life to live Loves and losses deaths and births The result is an intimate chronicle of one man s life and of the way of life in a vanishing corner of rural New England where life is as harsh as the winters This is poetry that will speak to emergency workers everywhere and to any man who has reached late middle age carrying his own burdens of love loss and loneliness Critical Acclaim for A Life Lived Backwards Mark Creaven s new collection of poems A Life Lived Backwards is a starkly lyrical memorial of the harshness of life in the last rural frontier of Vermont known as the Northeast Kingdom As an emergency medical technician a friend a neighbor and a caring human being Mr Creaven has seen it all suicide unspeakable highway wrecks family violence livelihoods going up in flames along with house and barns Yet in the end A Life Lived Backwards is a tribute to our ability through love not just to endure but to transcend just about the worst horrors imaginable Howard Frank Mosher Vermont author Shelley wrote in 1821 In a time of violence the task of poetry is in some way to reconcile us to our world and to allow us a measure of tenderness and grace with which to exist Creaven s work A Life Lived Backwards offers the reader such grace creating something from the proverbial nothing of life s lacunae in compassion juxtaposed with indifference Nearly two hundred years after Shelley's A Defence of Poetry Creaven's words hold lyrical ground offering fragile fortitude and tender tenuous redemption Neila Descelles clinical psychologist Through a full and honorable life that has included service in the military mental health and emergency medical services Mark Creaven has seen more than his share of the suffering death and loss that most people carefully protect themselves from experiencing In the first chapter of A Life Lived Backwards he gives the reader a rare glimpse into the occasional joy and frequent trauma experienced by emergency workers As an EMS and ER veteran I have become perhaps too numb to traumatic scenes but the jarring imagery of Creaven's poems ripped off my protective layers and lay bare my own unhealed wounds The concise evocative and emotionally difficult poems serve their purpose to reader and perhaps writer Someone must treat the dead and dying and these heroes bear a heavy burden for society The subsequent chapters contain some lighter passages but continue the theme of devastating loss still painful to read and effectively exposing my own fears and losses There is no refuge here from the reality that people and things die suffering happens buildings rot and burn relationships fail and we all die alone in some sense Whether redemption is found is up to the reader but Mark Creaven's important work gives voice to the traumas that fill sleepless nights of millions Paul Newton M D M M M F A A F P

Emergency Landing Osakwe Kinshasa,2021-04-22 Some of us are in a sense hovering over a runway with no idea of how to land this metaphorical aircraft that has been flying up there a little too long But there is no runway Or is there Some have many flying hours and multiple landings They know they can land their craft even in adverse conditions But they have not received clearance from the tower and fuel is low Others are having the jitters of the first landing They must land now Emergency Landing is a collection of poems and prosaic poetic expressions that will not necessarily give you instructions about how to land your aircraft but it may add to your courage to do it now It is a fabric that has been on the loom for well over two and close to three decades Prepared or not here we are landing These poems do not follow a meter that some readers are familiar with but all of them have something to say about you or someone you know or have even passing knowledge about Have a cockpit view of this landing When you deplane enjoy the feel of the earth under your feet and plan your next airborne adventure
