Why Good People Do Bad Things James Hollis, 2008-04-17 Working with the Shadow is not working with evil per se It is working toward the possibility of greater wholeness We will never experience healing until we can come to love our unlovable places for they too ask love of us How is it that good people do bad things Why is our personal story and our societal history so bloody so repetitive so injurious to self and others How do we make sense of the discrepancies between who we think we are or who we show to the outside world versus our everyday behaviors Why are otherwise ordinary people driven to addictions and compulsions whether alcohol drugs food shopping infidelity or the Internet Why are interpersonal relationships so often filled with strife Exploring Jung's concept of the Shadow the unconscious parts of our self that contradict the image of the self we hope to project Why Good People Do Bad Things guides you through all the ways in which many of our seemingly unexplainable behaviors are manifestations of the Shadow In addition to its presence in our personal lives Hollis looks at the larger picture of the Shadow at work in our culture from organized religion to the suffering and injustice that abounds in our modern world Accepting and examining the Shadow as part of one's self Hollis suggests is the first step toward wholeness Revealing a new way of understanding our darker selves Hollis offers wisdom to help you to acquire a more conscious conduct of your life and bring a new level of awareness to your daily actions and choices in the twenty first century Seeing differently seeing better sound learning and teaching about the Holocaust aim for what may be the most important Holocaust insight of all Take nothing good for granted Horror and the Holy Kirk J. Schneider,1993 True horror arises when the mundane becomes unexpected and when the contained breaks free of its confining chains to become unlimited Anything boundless tends to become terrifying argues Schneider It is infinitude which draws us to the unsavory infinitude that lurks behind dread Sheer bliss paradise or Nirvana therefore always has the potential to turn into horror as limits fall away and the boundless expanses of infinity open up While ecstasy is a glimpse of the infinite terror is full disclosure The Pulse of Creation Paul R. Sponheim,1999 Paul Sponheim s theme is transformation personal social cultural and global He addresses the violence environmental destruction and lost sense of self that plague modern society In response he finds a genuine desire among Americans for both individual and social transformation He suggests however that we may have lost sight of the Creator s call for us to join in the work of creation through direct partnership with others not just with other Christians in nurturing change Sponheim claims the ecstatic power of religion for individual and social transformation and explores how the human status as creature entails responsibility to God in the drama that creation constitutes In central chapters on Interruption Calling and Relationship he clearly shows how transformation takes place though our participation in God s ongoing creative work The Paradoxical Self Kirk J. Schneider,1999-10 Why do so many of us develop extremist psychological patterns from withdrawal to aggression friendship to enmity Why do people vicariously live out their extremes through the actions of others What can we do to transform these extremes in order to live vital and creative lives Drawing on the vast literature of existential psychology Dr Schneider develops what he calls the paradox principle based on the assumptions that human experience spans a continuum from constriction to expansion The former is characterized by the capacity to yield and focus the latter by the capacity to assert and incorporate People become dysfunctional polarized or excessive says Schneider when they fear either of these capacities After applying his model to a variety of dysfunctional syndromes Schneider goes on to depict its relevance for psychological health He ties his model directly to subjects personal histories and shows its pertinence to creativity physical health religious and social organizations child rearing and psychology Blame it on Freud Frances Kovacs Heussenstamm,1993
