Gender and Equality in Muslim Family Law Lena Larsen, Ziba Mir-Hosseini, Christian Moe, Kari Vogt, 2013-04-30 Gender equality is a modern ideal which has only recently with the expansion of human rights and feminist discourses become inherent to generally accepted conceptions of justice In Islam as in other religious traditions the idea of equality between men and women was neither central to notions of justice nor part of the juristic landscape and Muslim jurists did not begin to address it until the twentieth century The personal status of Muslim men women and children continues to be defined by understandings of Islamic law codified and adapted by modern nation states that assume authority to be the natural prerogative of men that disadvantage women and that are prone to abuse This volume argues that effective and sustainable reform of these laws and practices requires engagement with their religious rationales from within the tradition Gender and Equality in Muslim Family Law offers a ground breaking analysis of family law based on fieldwork in family courts and illuminated by insights from distinguished clerics and scholars of Islam from Morocco Egypt Iran Pakistan and Indonesia as well as by the experience of human rights and women's rights activists It explores how male authority is sustained through law and court practice in different contexts the consequences for women and the family and the demands made by Muslim women's groups The book argues for women's full equality before the law by re-examining the jurisprudential and theological arguments for male guardianship qiwama wilaya in Islamic legal tradition Using contemporary examples from various contexts from Morocco to Malaysia this volume presents an informative and vital analysis of these societies and gender relations within them It unpicks the complex and often contradictory attitudes towards Muslim family law and the ways in which justice and ethics are conceived in the Islamic tradition The book offers a new framework for rethinking old formulations so as to reflect contemporary realities and understandings of justice ethics and gender rights

Islam, Gender, and Democracy in Comparative Perspective Jocelyne Cesari, José Casanova, 2017 This collection reframes the debate around Islam and women's rights within a broader comparative literature that examines the complex and contingent historical relationships between religion secularism democracy law and gender equality

Gender Equity in Islam Jamal A. Badawi, 1995* Women and Men in the Qur'an Asma Lamrabet, 2018-05-02 This book distinguishes Islam as a spiritual message from the sociopolitical context of its revelation While the sacred text of the Quran reveals a clear empowerment of women and equality of believers such spirit is barely reflected in the interpretations Trapped between Western rhetoric that portrays them as submissive figures in desperate need of liberation and centuries old parochial interpretations that have almost become part of the sacred Muslim women are pressured and profoundly misunderstood Asma Lamrabet laments this state of affairs and the inclination of both Muslims and non Muslims to readily embrace flawed human interpretations that devalue women rather than remaining faithful to the meaning of the Sacred Text Full of insight this study carefully reads the Qur'an to arrive at its deeper spiritual teachings

Islamic Fundamentalism, Feminism, and Gender Inequality in Iran Under Khomeini Masoud Kazemzadeh, 2002-09-10 The rise of Islamic fundamentalist movements in the Islamic world and their obsession with women's roles has given rise to the question of the relationship between Islam and women's inferior position. There is little doubt that Iranian women have been one of the major losers of the 1979 Iranian revolution. Islamic fundamentalists in Iran created an extremely violent misogynist oppressive regime. Islamic fundamentalists in Afghanistan, Algeria, Egypt, and elsewhere have promoted misogynist ethos and policies. Is Islam as a religion against the equality of men and women? Is Islamism that is Islam as a political ideology against the equality of women? In this book, utilizing the case of Iran under Khomeini, the author analyzes the relationship between Islam, Islamic fundamentalism, and gender inequality.

Justice and Beauty in Muslim Marriage Ziba Mir-Hosseini, Mulki Al-Sharmani, Jana Rumminger, Sarah Marsso, 2022-11-03

The model of marriage constructed in classical Islamic jurisprudence rests on patriarchal ethics that privilege men. This worldview persists in gender norms and family laws in many Muslim contexts despite reforms introduced over the past few decades. In this volume, a diverse group of scholars explore how egalitarian marital relations can be supported from within Islamic tradition. Brought together by the Musawah movement for equality and justice in the Muslim family, they examine ethics and laws related to marriage and gender relations from the perspective of the Qur'an, Sunna, Muslim legal tradition, historical practices, and contemporary law reform processes. Collectively, they conceptualize how Muslim marriages can be grounded in equality, mutual well-being, and the core Qur'anic principles of adl (justice) and ihsan (goodness and beauty). The Rights of Women in Islam Asghar Ali Engineer, 1992. This book is a long overdue reassessment of women's rights in Islam, which have long been widely misunderstood and misinterpreted. The fundamentalists, unmindful of the social context in which Qur'anic verses on the subject were written, have tried to portray men as superior human beings to women. The author, a renowned scholar, has sought to set the record straight by reinterpreting the women's rights in the true Qur'anic spirit. He argues quite convincingly that the Holy Book gives equal rights to both the sexes and that it does not discriminate between them in respect of personal, democratic, and human rights. An activist in women's struggle for equality, he has provided Muslim feminists with a powerful weapon in their fight for equality with men. He examines in depth the question whether, in secular society, Muslim Personal Law needs any change, and if so, in which direction reforms should be undertaken.

Gender Equality in Iranian History Minoo Derayeh, 2006. In the last two decades, under the Islamic Republic, laws and regulations affecting the status of Iranian women came in the form of different religious decrees that were justified by the argument that they all complied with the Quran and the sharia. Iranian women have refused to abandon their quests for an equal status. This book examines the changes which have affected Iranian women's lives after the coming of Islam in the seventh century and after the Islamic Revolution of 1979. Women and Religion Ruspini, Elisabetta, Bonifacio, Glenda Tibe, 2019-09-11. This edited collection provides interdisciplinary, global, and multi-religious perspectives on the relationship between women's identities, religion, and social change in the contemporary world. The book discusses the experiences and positions of women and particular groups of women to understand patterns of religiosity and religious change. It also addresses the current and future challenges posed by women's changes to religion in different parts of the world and among different religious traditions and practices. The contributors address a diverse range of themes and issues including the attitudes of different religions to gender equality, how women construct their identity through religious activity, whether women have opportunity to influence religious doctrine, and the impact of migration on the religious lives of both women and men.
