Alternate Civilities is an anthropologist's answer to the argument that China's cultural tradition renders it incapable of achieving an open political system Robert Weller draws on his knowledge of both China and Taiwan to show how such sweeping claims fail to take account of potential democratic stimuli among local level associations such as business organizations religious groups environmental movements and women's networks These groups were pivotal in Taiwan's democratic transition and they are thriving in the new free space that has opened up in China They do not promise a clone of Western civil society but they do show the possibility of an alternate civility

Rethinking Sino-Japanese Alienation Barry Buzan, Evelyn Goh, 2020-01-09 Bitterly contested memories of war colonisation and empire among Japan China and Korea have increasingly threatened regional order and security over the past three decades In Sino Japanese relations identity territory and power pull together in a particularly lethal direction generating dangerous tensions in both geopolitical and memory rivalries Buzan and Goh explore a new approach to dealing with this history problem First they construct a more balanced and global view of China and Japan in modern world history Second building on this they sketch out the possibilities for a 21st century great power bargain between them Buzan puts Northeast Asia's history since 1840 into both a world historical and a systematic normative context exposing the parochial nature of the China Japan history debate in relation to what is a bigger shared story about their encounter with modernity and the West within which their modern encounter with each other took place Arguing that regional order will ultimately depend substantially on the relationship between these two East Asian great powers Goh explores the conditions under which China and Japan have been able to reach strategic bargains in the course of their long historical relationship and uses this to sketch out the main modes of agreement that might underpin a new contemporary great power bargain between them in a variety of future scenarios for the region The frameworks adopted here consciously blend historical contextualisation enduring concerns with wealth power and interest and the complex relationship between Northeast Asian states evolving encounters with each other and with global international society
