Fifth Business The:

The Canadian Novel John Moss, 1983-02 A collection of essays about contemporary Canadian novels by Margaret Atwood Robertson Davies Margaret Laurence Alice Munro Mordechai Richler Rudy Wiebe as edited by professor of English at the University of Ottawa John Moss Fifth business Robertson Davies, 1970 The Deptford Trilogy Robertson Davies, 1983 Young Fifth business and World of Wonders Jungian Literary Criticism Richard P. Sugg, 1992 English Studies Beyond the 'Center' Myles Chilton, 2015-11-06 This book addresses the shape of English studies beyond the center by analyzing how the discipline has developed and by considering how lessons from this analysis relate to the discipline as a whole The book aims to open a cross disciplinary conversation about the nature of the English major in both non Anglophone and Anglophone countries by addressing the tensions between language and literature pedagogy the relevance of a focus on hyper canonical Anglophone literature in a world of global Englishes world literature and multilingual students and by reflecting on the necessary contingency and cross purposes of blended literature and language classrooms Many of the book's points of discussion arise from the author's experience as an English professor in Japan where the particularities of English language and literature pedagogy raise significant challenges to Anglo centric critical and pedagogical assumptions English Studies Beyond the Center Teaching Literature and the Future of Global English therefore argues that English literature must make a case for itself by understanding its place in a newly configured discipline Issues discussed in the book include English language and literature pedagogy in Japan The modes through which EFL and English literary studies converge and diverge Globalized English beyond the Anglo American perspective English classroom practices particularly in Japan The Postwar Novel in Canada Rosmarin Heidenreich, 1989-10-31 As a comparative study which includes the analysis of both English Canadian and Quebec novels this book provides an overview of the novel as it has developed in this country since the Second World War Focusing on narratological rather than thematic elements the book represents a systematic application of the insights and analytical tools of reader reception theory in particular the models proposed by Wolfgang Iser and Hans Robert Jauss Placing the emphasis on the text and its effects rather than on the historical or psycho sociological genesis of the text the author invokes the models and paradigms of other literatures to establish a broader cultural context permitting the significance of a literature to emerge as a carrier of meaning in and beyond the culture that produces it Tracing a critical path from Hugh MacLennan's hierarchic romance structures and Gabrielle Roy's social realism to the metafiction of Hubert Aquin and Timothy Findley the author reveals that the novel's narratological features themselves are often closely linked with ideological positions The Modern Stephen King Canon Patrick McAleer, Philip L. Simpson, 2018-11-29 The Modern Stephen King Canon Beyond Horror is a collection of essays focused on the more recent writings of Stephen King including Revival 11 22 63 and a selection of short stories by the Master of the Macabre The authors write about King works that have received little critical attention and aim to open up doorways of analysis and insight that will help readers gain a stronger appreciation for the depth and detail within King's fiction. Indeed, while King is often relegated to the role of a genre writer, horror, the essays in this collection consider the merits of King's writing beyond the basics of horror for which he is primarily known. Recommended for scholars of literature, horror, and popular culture. Encyclopedia of British Writers, 1800 to the Present, George Stade, Karen Karbiener, 2010-05-12. Contains alphabetically arranged entries that provide biographical and critical information on major and lesser-known nineteenth and twentieth-century British writers and includes articles on key schools of literature and genres.

Hockey on the Moon, Jamie Dopp, 2024-11-22. Fantasy and reality come together in sports, and Jamie Dopp argues that nowhere is this blurring of the borders of reality more evident than in Canadian hockey. Using imagination as a unifying theme, Dopp offers in-depth analyses of key texts of hockey literature with a focus on how these texts reveal the imaginative possibilities of the game. Popular texts like Stompin' Tom Connors' The Hockey Song, Scott Young's Scrubs on Skates trilogy, and Roch Carrier's The Hockey Sweater, as well as important literary texts like Bill Gaston's The Good Body, Cara Hedley's Twenty Miles, and Richard Wagamese's Indian Horse, are examined. Dopp's analysis draws on literary history and methods and explores broader topics such as the role of imagination in human culture, the significance of play, the evolution of sport in Canada, and elsewhere, the history of Canada, and the history and social significance of hockey.

Fifth Business, Robertson Davies, 1996. Ramsay is a man twice born, a man who has returned from the hell of the battle grave at Passchendaele in World War I, decorated with the Victoria Cross, and destined to be caught in a no-man's-land where memory, history, and myth collide. As Ramsay tells his story, it begins to seem that from boyhood he has exerted a perhaps mystical, perhaps pernicious influence on those around him. His apparently innocent involvement in such innocuous events as the throwing of a snowball or the teaching of card tricks to a small boy in the end prove neither innocent nor innocuous. Fifth Business stands alone as a remarkable story told by a rational man who discovers that the marvelous is only another aspect of the real.
