Reading Transatlantic Girlhood in the Long Nineteenth Century Robin L. Cadwallader, LuElla D'Amico, 2020-05-13 This collection is the first of its kind to interrogate both literal and metaphorical transatlantic exchanges of culture and ideas in nineteenth century girls fiction As such it initiates conversations about how the motif of travel in literature taught nineteenth century girl audiences to reexamine their own cultural biases by offering a fresh perspective on literature that is often studied primarily within a national context Women and children in nineteenth century America are often described as being tied to the home and the domestic sphere but this collection challenges this categorization and shows that girls in particular were often expected to go abroad and to learn new cultural frames in order to enter the realm of adulthood those who could not afford to go abroad literally could do so through the stories that traveled to them from other lands or the stories they read of others travels Via transatlantic exchange then authors readers and the characters in the texts covered in this collection confront the idea of what constitutes the self Books examined in this volume include Adeline Trafton s An American Girl Abroad 1872 Johanna Spyri s Heidi 1881 and Elizabeth W Champney s eleven book Vassar Girl Series 1883-92 among others

Transfer Thinking in Translation Studies Maud Gonne, Klaartje Merrigan, Reine Meylaerts, Heleen van Gerwen, 2020-11-16 The concept of transfer covers the most diverse phenomena of circulation transformation and reinterpretation of cultural goods across space and time and are among the driving forces in opening up the field of translation studies Transfer processes cross linguistic and cultural boundaries and cannot be reduced to simple movements from a source to a target culture or text In a time of paradigm shifts this book aims to explore the potential and interdisciplinary power of transfer as a concept and an analytical tool to account for complex cultural dynamics The contributions in this book adopt various research angles literary studies imagology translation studies translator studies periodical studies postcolonialism to study an array of entangled transfer processes that apply to different objects and aspects ranging from literary texts legal texts news images and identities to ideologies power asymmetries titles and heterolingualisms By embracing a process oriented way of thinking all these contributions aim to open the black box of transfer in the widest sense
