Citizen Identity Formation of Domestic Students and Syrian Refugee Youth in Jordan Patricia K. Kubow, 2023-06-07 Moving beyond Western philosophical and political frameworks this text engages with and centers Arab Islamic ontologies pupil voice and gender to explore citizen identity formation and belonging among domestic students and Syrian refugees in Jordan Focusing on the role of double shift schools educational policy and provision the volume interrogates how citizenship and youth identity is rooted upheld and altered over time With an eye to complex historical local and national contexts of migration and insecurity in the Middle East the book strives for a reconceptualization of citizen identity and education to better reflect the development of socio civic identities amidst poverty forced migration and unrest Based on direct access to 10 public schools in Jordan and using qualitative data it applies an innovative combination of different methods to ascertain student voice to theorize education for citizenship based on real and challenging experiences of Syrian refugees as well as domestic Jordanian students Moving beyond the traditional Western philosophies that largely frame citizenship discourses it applies process philosophy to a field dominated by political considerations while also paying attention to social contexts As such it goes beyond the context of Jordan to inform regional and international discourses policies and initiatives surrounding refugees and education in emergencies The book will appeal to scholars professionals and students in the fields of comparative and international education citizenship youth studies social studies and social foundations of education as well as those working in the formal and non formal educational development sectors

Educational Foundations Alan S. Canestrari, Bruce A. Marlowe, 2004 This anthology of critical readings for students about to enter the teaching profession and for those interested in carefully examining schools and schooling features provocative engaging authors whose views are politicized but whose writing and opinions matter not because they are gadflies but because their ideas work and their achievements as teachers principals and policy shapers are so notable Educational Foundations An Anthology of Critical Readings is organized around the following questions Why teach Who are today's students What makes a good teacher How should we assess student learning What does a good school look like How does one develop a critical voice in the face of state mandates administrative edicts and the continuous cycle of reform and retrenchment Alan S Canestrari and Bruce A Marlowe's answers are bold and refreshing They eschew the unquestioning compliance so characteristic of new teachers Also by taking a hard look at traditional educational practice they serve as models for the kind of reflective practitioners we hope pre service students will become when they enter the field The key feature of this anthology are the readings by authors who have discovered their own critical voices so that new teachers can begin to develop their own These readings offer a platform for discussion and debate that may be used by instructors to increase student knowledge of pedagogy and to provide authentic opportunities for potential teachers to think critically about teaching and learning
