Vindicating the Founders Thomas G. West,1997 It is commonly but incorrectly asserted that because Washington and Jefferson owned slaves because women even after the American Revolution enjoyed virtually no rights and because the poor and those without property were denied the basic tenets of democratic participation the Founders were frauds who never really believed that all men were created equal West demonstrates why such politically correct interpretations are not only dead wrong but dangerous Because our understanding of the Founders so profoundly influences our opinion of contemporary America this book explains why their views and particularly the constitutional order they created are still worthy of our highest respect West proves that the Founders were indeed sincere in their belief of universal human rights and in their commitment to democracy By contrasting the Founders ideas of liberty and equality with today s West persuasively concludes that contemporary notions bear almost no resemblance to the concepts originally articulated by the Founders

The Founders' Fortunes Willard Sterne Randall,2022-02-08 An illuminating financial history of the Founding Fathers revealing how their personal finances shaped the Constitution and the new nation In 1776 upon the signing of the Declaration of Independence the Founding Fathers concluded America s most consequential document with a curious note pledging our lives our fortunes and our sacred honor Lives and honor did indeed hang in the balance yet just what were their fortunes How much did the Founders stand to gain or lose through independence And what lingering consequences did their respective financial stakes have on liberty justice and the fate of the fledgling United States of America In this landmark account historian Willard Sterne Randall investigates the private financial affairs of the Founders illuminating like never before how and why the Revolution came about The Founders Fortunes uncovers how these leaders waged war crafted a constitution and forged a new nation influenced in part by their own financial interests In an era where these very issues have become daily national questions the result is a remarkable and insightful new understanding of our nation s bedrock values

The World of the Founding Fathers Saul Kussiel Padover,Alexander Hamilton,1960 One of the outstanding authorities on the early days of the Republic Saul K Padover offers in this volume a generous sampling of the letters essays speeches discourses and personal documents many of them previously unpublished of the men who made America Included are extensive selections from the papers and speeches of John Adams Benjamin Franklin Alexander Hamilton Thomas Jefferson James Madison and George Washington There are also copious extracts from the private and public utterances of secondary but important figures of the founding days Samuel Adams Elbridge Gerry Patrick Henry John Dickinson Oliver Ellsworth William Paterson Benjamin Rush George Wythe and many others A number of the speeches made at the

Constitutional Convention in 1787 are given in full and several of the important debates are reproduced John Dickinson's Letters from an American Farmer in Pennsylvania appear in these pages as well as many of Alexander Hamilton's famous and brief opinions Also included are John Hancock's speech on the Boston Massacre Thomas Jefferson's Notes on Virginia James Madison's Memorial against Religious Assessments two of the most important of John Marshall's Supreme Court decisions Marbury vs Madison and McCulloch vs Maryland Robert Morris Letters on Finance John Taylor's paper On Aristocracy and William Paterson's Plan for a Constitution Taken together these writings offer in one volume a complete picture of the thinking the debate the legal maneuvers the compromises the manners and the morals of the American nation's earliest days The book provides a sound basic appreciation of the atmosphere in which the Founding Fathers worked and planned and debated with one another All the many counter currents that contributed to the building of the Constitution the stresses to which the young nation was subjected the rebellion that continued to seethe the moral climate of the days these are all recreated in the speeches and writings of America's first patriots Dr Padover has bound the selections together with enlightening commentary that enables the reader to understand the exact circumstances of each utterance and brings the particular work into historical perspective Jacket American Dialogue Joseph J. Ellis, 2018 We live in a divided America that is currently incapable of sustained argument and is feeling unsure of its destiny Ellis shows how the founders went back to the Greek and Roman classics for seasoned wisdom in their time and now he takes us back to our classics America's founders In discussing Thomas Jefferson and racism John Adams and economic inequality James Madison and constitutional law George Washington and foreign policy Ellis reminds us that the founders' greatest legacy lies not in providing political answers but in helping us find a better way to frame the question adapted from jacket Revolutionary Characters Gordon S. Wood, 2006 A historical analysis of America's founding leaders identifies the character qualities that enabled them to make their pivotal contributions to the country's formation discussing what their examples can teach modern readers and how their shared vision of a national meritocracy was shaped by period beliefs about character and leadership 75 000 first printing What Would the Founders Do? Richard Brookhiser, 2007-05-01 Where are the Founders when we need them Here Founding Brothers Edward Herrmann, History Channel (Television network), Kelly McPherson, Melissa Jo Peltier, Jim Milio, Roger Mudd, MPH Entertainment (Firm), Mark Hufnail, Peter Coyote, Brian Dennehy, Hal Holbrook, Joseph J. Ellis, Arts and Entertainment Network, New Video Group, 2002-01-01 An analysis of the intertwined careers of the founders of the American republic including John Adams Aaron Burr Benjamin Franklin Alexander Hamilton Thomas Jefferson James Madison and George Washington and the moments that shaped the Nation's history Men Who Made America Daniel Da Cruz Jr., 2011-10-01 Readings In American History For Students Learning English As A Second Language Fears of a Setting Sun Dennis C. Rasmussen, 2021-03-02 Whatever sense of hope the Founder Fathers may have felt at the new government's birth almost none of them carried that optimism to their graves Franklin survived to see the Constitution in action for only a single year but most of the founders who lived into the nineteenth century came to feel deep anxiety disappointment and even despair about the government and the nation that they had helped to create Indeed by the end of their lives many of the founders judged the Constitution that we now venerate to be an utter failure that was unlikely to last beyond their own generation This book tells the story of their disillusionment The book focuses principally on four of the preeminent figures of the period 1787 George Washington Alexander Hamilton John Adams and Thomas Jefferson These four lost their faith in the American experiment at different times and for different reasons and each has his own unique story As Rasmussen shows in a series of three chapters on each figure Washington became disillusioned above all because of the rise of parties and partisanship Hamilton because he felt that the federal government was not sufficiently vigorous or energetic Adams because he believed that the American people lacked the requisite civic virtue for republican government and Jefferson because of sectional divisions brought on as he saw it by Northern attempts to restrict slavery and consolidate power in the federal government Washington Hamilton Adams and Jefferson were the most prominent of the founders who grew disappointed in what America became but they were certainly not the only ones In a final chapter Rasmussen shows that most of the other leading founders including figures such as Samuel Adams John Jay James Monroe and Thomas Paine fell in the same camp The most notable founder who did not come to despair for his country was the one who outlived them all James Madison Madison did harbor some real worries but a final chapter also explores why Madison largely kept the republican faith when so many of his compatriots did not
