Eighteenth Century Exeter Robert Newton,1984 Regional Architecture Of the West of England A.E.
Richardson,1924 British Privateering Enterprise in the Eighteenth Century David J. Starkey,2022-06-17 An important part of eighteenth century maritime conflict involved the destruction of enemy commerce and the protection of home trade In performing these tasks state navies were augmented by privateers vessels owned equipped and manned by private individuals authorised by their governments to attack and seize the enemy s seaborne property For their reward the investors and seafarers engaged in privateering ventures shared in the proceeds of any ships and goods taken and condemned as lawful prize Privateering therefore represented a business opportunity to the maritime community a chance to acquire instant wealth at the enemy s expense at the same time it appeared as a cheap convenient means by which the state might supplement its naval strength In this important analysis David J Starkey draws upon a wealth of documentary evidence to throw fresh light upon the character scale and significance of the British privateering business Rights and Priviledges of the Freemen of Exeter Richard Izacke,1751 The Architectural Review ,1916 Exeter Thomas Hart Taylor,1973 Sir John Bowring 1792-1872 Joyce A. the fifty years or so before the outbreak of the crisis of the 1760s that was to lead to the Revolution has never been in doubt The articles written included in this text suggest a number of ways in which the imperial factor was of real importance in colonial life and show that there was dynamism on the British side as well as in the colonies Notes and Queries ,1929

Making Toleration Scott Sowerby,2013-03-01 Though James II is often depicted as a Catholic despot who imposed his faith Scott Sowerby reveals a king ahead of his time who pressed for religious toleration at the expense of his throne The Glorious Revolution was in fact a conservative counter revolution against the movement for enlightened reform that James himself encouraged and sustained Popular Politics and British Anti-Slavery J.R. Oldfield,2012-10-12 In 1792 400 000 people put their signature to petitions calling for the abolition of the slaves trade This work explains how this remarkable expression of support for black people was organized and orchestrated and how it contributed to the growth of popular politics in Britain Popular Politics and British Anti-slavery John R. Oldfield,1998 This work explains how the expression of support for black people in 1792 when 400 000 people called for the abolition of the slave trade was organized and orchestrated and how it contributed to the growth of popular politics in Britain Proceedings and Resolutions of the Annual Provincial Meeting of the Members of the Society Incorporated Law Society (Great Britain).
