Giovanni Anselmo:

Giovanni Anselmo Gloria Moure, Giovanni Anselmo, Bruno Corà, 1996 Emerging out of the Arte Povera movement of the late 1960s and 1970s the work of Giovanni Anselmo has stood the test of time and his sculptures have pushed the boundaries of art for more than three decades Anselmo creates sculpture using a diverse array of materials stone wood earth cotton and even lettuce as well as installations using slide projections His work attempts to resolve the tensions between concepts such as the particular and the infinite or nature and art and does so with a remarkable combination of force and delicacy

Giovanni Anselmo Giovanni Anselmo, Giovanni Anselmo Dieter Schwarz, 2013 Luciano Fabro born 1936 in Turin died 2007 in Milan used simple materials from everyday life in his sculptural works as well as valuable classical material such as marble bronze or Murano glass Some of the pieces from the workgroup that consists of the geographical contours of his native land he converted into gold plated brass and bronze or combined Murano glass with precious silk fabric as in the large installation Piedi 1971 In the same way he understood how to join a simple sheet of paper a copper pole or a twine of ivy into delicate poignant forms and make of them a new vocabulary In the formal diversity of his work drawings assumed a special status They were for Fabro as for other artists of his generation a significant conceptual tool However he didn't sell his drawings but gave them away so that the examples shown in this book have been closed to the public till now 0Exhibition Kunstmuseum Winterthur Germany 26 1 14 4 2013 Giovanni Anselmo Giovanni Anselmo, Kunsthalle Basel, 1979

Turner, Fabien Rossat, Jon Black, Thibaut Maïquès, J. Michael Niotta PhD, Thom L. Jones, Patrick Downey, Ellen Poulsen, 2024-10-31 Joseph Valachi was a special figure in the history of American crime. Noteworthy as a rare primary source into Mafia events of the Castellammarese War era 1930-1931, Valachi's documented memories also provide a window into the early gangland of East Harlem, Manhattan, and the Bronx. Through his recollections, historians gain a unique, soldier-level view of New York area organized crime families between Prohibition and the Mafia convention at Apalachin, New York. As an early Mafia turncoat and a celebrated informant for J. Edgar Hoover's FBI, Valachi became the focus of a best-selling book, a popular motion picture, many hours of televised Senate testimony, and a detailed but never published autobiography, The Real Thing, of more than a thousand pages. Despite all that attention, a great deal of the true Valachi story has remained untold for decades. And some of the information provided by Valachi and repeated through many years has been inaccurate. Much of his life and many of his associates have been largely ignored by crime historians. Neglected subjects have included the impact of Valachi on the FBI, the government stresses related to the Kennedy Justice Department's desire to publicize the Valachi story, and the painful birthing of The Valachi Papers in book and movie forms. Now, sixty years after Valachi put pen to paper to compose his memoirs, a team of historians has assembled a collection of carefully researched articles in an effort to correct Valachi's flawed recollections, to reveal long-hidden aspects of his life, and to identify and flesh out the individuals who influenced him. This Informer issue features standalone articles on various phases of Valachi's existence in and out of the Mafia society he called cosa nostra. It includes dozens of separate biographies of Valachi contacts on both sides of the law and background information on his time and place. The issue is illustrated with photos, documents, and maps. In addition to this EPUB ebook format, the issue is available in Kindle ebook, hardcover, paperback, magazine, and emagazine formats.

Postwar Italian Art History Today, Sharon Hecker, Marin Sullivan, 2018-06-28. Postwar Italian Art History Today brings fresh critical consideration to the parameters and impact of Italian art and visual culture studies of the past several decades. Taking its cue from the thirty-year anniversary of curator Germano Celant's landmark exhibition at PS1 in New York, The Knot, this volume presents innovative case studies and emphasizes new methodologies deployed in the study of postwar Italian art as a means to evaluate the current state of the field. Included are fifteen essays that each examine from a different viewpoint the issues, concerns, and questions driving postwar Italian art history. The editors and contributors call for a systematic reconsideration of the artistic origins of postwar Italian art, the terminology that is used to describe the work produced, and key personalities and institutions that promoted and supported the development and marketing of this art in Italy and abroad.
