Evaluating Federal Systems:

Evaluating Federal Systems Bertus Villiers, 1994-11-29 Many countries are currently debating the merits and implications of a federal type dispensation Some fear that it may encourage regional apartheid and discrimination while others see it as a cohesive force Federalism however has many faces and applications and it offers a host of ways to accommodate the constitutional needs of a particular country Evaluating Federal Systems illustrates and compares a variety of experiences that countries across the world have had in the practical application of federal principles and moots a long felt need by analyzing recent international developments in federalism and regionalism Contributions from world renowned scholars in the theory and application of federal principles mean that the book will be of great value to all involved in the study and management of federal type systems Evaluating Federal Research Programs Institute of Medicine, National Academy of Engineering, National Academy of Sciences, Committee on Science, Engineering, and Public Policy, 1999-03-10

The Government Performance and Results Act GPRA passed by Congress in 1993 requires that federal agencies write five year strategic plans with annual performance goals and produce an annual report that demonstrates whether the goals have been met The first performance reports are due in March 2000 Measuring the performance of basic research is particularly challenging because major breakthroughs can be unpredictable and difficult to assess in the short term This book recommends that federal agencies use an expert review method to examine the quality of research they support the relevance of that research to their mission and whether the research is at the international forefront of scientific and technological knowledge It also addresses the issues of matching evaluation measurements to the character of the research performed improving coordination among agencies when research is in the same field and including a human resource development component in GPRA strategic and performance plans Evaluating Federal Research Programs Committee on Science, Engineering, and Public Policy, National Academy of Sciences, National Academy of Engineering, Institute of Medicine, 1999-02-24
