Statistical Methods Inspired by Data Collected from Alcohol and Substance Abuse Research Anne Buu and Runze Li Index

Statistical Methods in Psychiatry and Related Fields Ralitza Gueorguieva, 2017-11-20 Data collected in psychiatry and related fields are complex because outcomes are rarely directly observed there are multiple correlated repeated measures within individuals there is natural heterogeneity in treatment responses and in other characteristics in the populations Simple statistical methods do not work well with such data More advanced statistical methods capture the data complexity better but are difficult to apply appropriately and correctly by investigators who do not have advanced training in statistics This book presents at a non technical level several approaches for the analysis of correlated data mixed models for continuous and categorical outcomes nonparametric methods for repeated measures and growth mixture models for heterogeneous trajectories over time Separate chapters are devoted to techniques for multiple comparison correction analysis in the presence of missing data adjustment for covariates assessment of mediator and moderator effects study design and sample size considerations The focus is on the assumptions of each method applicability and interpretation rather than on technical details Features Provides an overview of intermediate to advanced statistical methods applied to psychiatry Takes a non technical approach with mathematical details kept to a minimum Includes lots of detailed examples from published studies in psychiatry and related fields Software programs data sets and output are available on a supplementary website The intended audience are applied researchers with minimal knowledge of statistics although the book could also benefit collaborating statisticians The book together with the online materials is a valuable resource aimed at promoting the use of appropriate statistical methods for the analysis of repeated measures data Ralitza Gueorguieva is a Senior Research Scientist at the Department of Biostatistics Yale School of Public Health She has more than 20 years experience in statistical methodology development and collaborations with psychiatrists and other researchers and is the author of over 130 peer reviewed publications Alcohol Research & Health ,2004 Coronary Heart Disease Epidemiology Michael Marmot, M. G. Marmot, Paul Elliott, 2005 Coronary heart disease is the leading cause of death worldwide affecting millions of people in both developed and developing countries The dual aims of this book are to review the well established and emerging risk factors in coronary heart disease and to apply this knowledge to public health approaches to disease prevention The book includes authoritative accounts of studies within a single population and international studies important areas of methodological development trials to test preventive strategies and the application of epidemiological and other knowledge to the development of public health policy for the prevention of widespread disease It is an all encompassing work containing contributions from the world authorities in the field The book is divided into four sections The introduction reviews advances in the understanding of and the current status of risk factors for CHD Section 2 looks at recent global trends and emerging patterns of CHD morbidity and mortality in several countries and includes chapters on work done under the auspices of WHO on the global burden of disease in relation to smoking and blood pressure Section 3 focuses on advances in understanding the aetiology of CHD with each chapter focused on a particular risk factor Section 4 explores measures of prevention and intervention in terms of public health policy with specific examples from around the world

Alcohol Use Among U. S. Ethnic Minorities Danielle Spiegler,1993-07 The Social Costs of Underemployment David Dooley,JoAnn Prause,2003-11-24 Going beyond the usual focus on unemployment this 2004 book explores the health effects of other kinds of underemployment including forms of inadequate employment as involuntary part time and poverty wage work Using the National Longitudinal Survey of Youth this compares falling into unemployment versus inadequate employment relative to remaining adequately employed Outcomes include self esteem alcohol abuse depression and low birth weight The panel data permit study of the plausible reverse causation hypothesis of selection Because the sample is national and followed over two decades the study explores cross level effects individual change and community economic climate and developmental transitions Special attention is given to school leavers and welfare mothers and in cross generational analysis the effect of mothers employment on babies birth weights There emerges a way of conceptualizing employment status as a continuum ranging from good jobs to bad jobs to employment with implications for policy on work and health
