

Simple tips for writing essays- class 8 English

Class 8 is generally the time when the academics start getting a bit more technical. Similarly, the essay writing in class 8 is a little more technical and upgraded as compared to the junior classes. But do not worry, here we have summed up some of the best yet simple tips that will help you to avoid your problems and write excellent essays.

1. Start with the introduction

While starting your essay, make sure you gave an introduction about your topic. The introduction should be small yet informative. Try to be expressive by introducing your opinion regarding the topic. An introduction is important as it will build the foundation for the rest of the essay.

2. Research about the topic

The concept of researching might be new to you but yes, to ensure your information is right and appropriate, you should always prefer to research on the given topic first. Researching involves collecting information from various modes such as a book, or different websites on the internet. Before starting with your essay, you should collect all the required information for your essay from various sources available.

3. Make your article seem interesting to yourself

While writing your article, you may pretend that you are writing a story or narrating a story to your friends. You can add plot twists of your own and make the story more suspenseful and informative. You can add your opinions, your arguments, and your conclusions. Essays are all about your creativity and we all are enough creative to make stories, right? You should write your essay for making it interesting for yourself instead of confining yourself to the boring ones. Make your essays more enjoyable to yourself and write the things that excite you the most about that specific topic.

4. Write it in a structure

After you have written the introduction and did the research, then you may start with the supporting paragraph. Supporting paragraphs involve all the information about your essay, the information you have collected during your research should be written under supporting paragraphs, they are basically the body of your essay. You may write 3 supporting paragraphs explaining your point of view on the given topic.

5. Underline the important lines

If you have never underlined some important information in your essays before, then 8th class is the right time to start outlining the important sentences. While organizing the information in your essay, you may underline the important sentences that are the core of your essay.
