Pamphlet Series West Indies, British Department of Agriculture, 1904 Structure and Evolution of Invertebrate Nervous Systems Andreas Schmidt-Rhaesa, Steffen Harzsch, Günter Purschke, 2015-12-17 The nervous system is particularly fascinating for many biologists because it controls animal characteristics such as movement behavior and coordinated thinking Invertebrate neurobiology has traditionally been studied in specific model organisms whilst knowledge of the broad diversity of nervous system architecture and its evolution among metazoan animals has received less attention This is the first major reference work in the field for 50 years bringing together many leading evolutionary neurobiologists to review the most recent research on the structure of invertebrate nervous systems and provide a comprehensive and authoritative overview for a new generation of researchers Presented in full colour throughout Structure and Evolution of Invertebrate Nervous Systems synthesizes and illustrates the numerous new findings that have been made possible with light and electron microscopy These include the recent introduction of new molecular and optical techniques such as immunohistochemical staining of neuron specific antigens and fluorescence in situ hybridization combined with visualization by confocal laser scanning microscopy New approaches to analysing the structure of the nervous system are also included such as micro computational tomography cryo soft X ray tomography and various 3 D visualization techniques The book follows a systematic and phylogenetic structure covering a broad range of taxa interspersed with chapters focusing on selected topics in nervous system functioning which are presented as research highlights and perspectives This comprehensive reference work will be an essential companion for graduate students and researchers alike in the fields of metazoan neurobiology morphology zoology phylogeny and evolution From These Roots ,1984 Torrey Marshall Avery Howe, 1915 *The Vegetable World ...
