

A promotional image for the Destiny 2 expansion 'Renegades'. The scene is set in a desolate, orange-hued desert landscape under a dark sky with a bright sun or moon. In the foreground, two Guardians stand on a rocky outcrop, looking up at a massive, ancient-looking structure that appears to be a giant hand or a massive piece of machinery. A bright blue beam of light emanates from the structure. In the background, a large, ornate ship is visible in the sky, and another smaller ship is flying nearby. The overall atmosphere is one of mystery and adventure.

Eves Renegades:

Eve's Renegades Valerie Sanders, 1997-02-12 This study focuses on the work of four Victorian anti feminist women writers Eliza Lynn Linton Charlotte M Yonge Mrs Humphry Ward and Margaret Oliphant examining their self contradictory responses to the debate about women s role in family life and society Individual chapters review women s anti feminism from 1792 1850 and fresh readings of their best known novels emphasize the inconsistencies of their masculine and feminine ideals

Mrs Humphry Ward and Greenian Philosophy Helen Loader, 2019-03-26 This book examines Mary Ward s distinctive insight into late Victorian and Edwardian society as a famous writer and reformer who was inspired by the philosopher and British idealist Thomas Hill Green As a talented woman who had studied among Oxford University intellectuals in the 1870s and the granddaughter of Dr Arnold of Rugby Mrs Humphry Ward as she was best known was in a unique position to participate in the debates issues and events that shaped her generation religious doubt and Christianity educational reforms socialism women s suffrage and the First World War Helen Loader examines a range of biographical sources alongside Mary Ward s writings and social reform activities to demonstrate how she expressed and engaged with Greenian idealism both in theory and practice and made a significant contribution to British Society

Odd women? Emma Liggins, 2016-05-16 This genealogy of the odd woman compares representations of spinsters lesbians and widows in British women s fiction and auto biography from the 1850s to the 1930s Women outside heterosexual marriage in this period were seen as abnormal superfluous incomplete and threatening yet were also hailed as women of the future Before 1850 odd women were marginalised minor characters in British women s fiction yet by the 1930s spinsters lesbians and widows had become heroines This book examines how women writers including Charlotte Bront Elisabeth Gaskell Ella Hepworth Dixon May Sinclair E H Young Radclyffe Hall Winifred Holtby and Virginia Woolf challenged dominant perceptions of singleness and lesbianism in their novels stories and autobiographies Drawing on advice literature medical texts and feminist polemic it demonstrates how these narratives responded to contemporary political controversies around the vote women s work sexual inversion and birth control as well as examining the impact of the First World War

The Angel Out of the House Dorice Williams Elliott, 2002 Elliott English U of Kansas examines how novels and other literary texts portray women in the middle and upper classes taking an active part in endeavors that were perceived to have important social economic and political consequences Such works she says helped produce and authorize women s desires to participate in such endeavors Her study began as a doctoral dissertation for Johns Hopkins University Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

First-Person Anonymous Alexis Easley, 2017-05-15 First Person Anonymous revises previous histories of Victorian women s writing by examining the importance of both anonymous periodical journalism and signed book authorship in women s literary careers Alexis Easley demonstrates how women writers capitalized on the publishing conventions associated with signed and unsigned print media in order to create their own spaces of agency and meaning within a male dominated publishing industry She highlights the importance of journalism in the fashioning of women's complex identities thus providing a counterpoint to conventional critical accounts of the period that reduce periodical journalism to a monolithically oppressive domain of power relations Instead she demonstrates how anonymous publication enabled women to participate in important social and political debates without compromising their middle class respectability Through extensive analysis of literary and journalistic texts Easley demonstrates how the narrative strategies and political concerns associated with women's journalism carried over into their signed books of poetry and prose Women faced a variety of obstacles and opportunities as they negotiated the demands of signed and unsigned print media In investigating women's engagement with these media Easley focuses specifically on the work of Christian Johnstone 1781-1857 Harriet Martineau 1802-76 Elizabeth Gaskell 1810-65 George Eliot 1819-80 and Christina Rossetti 1830-94 She provides new insight into the careers of these authors and recovers a large anonymous body of periodical writing through which their better known careers emerged into public visibility Since her work touches on two issues central to the study of literary history the construction of the author and changes in media technology it will appeal to an audience of scholars and general readers in the fields of Victorian literature media studies periodicals research gender studies and nineteenth century Exchanges and Correspondence Claudette Fillard, Françoise Orazi, 2010-08-11 Through the eighteen essays of this book the reader becomes the beholder of a challenging survey of feminism in the making from its early stages in the 18th century to the present in Anglo Saxon countries and elsewhere including Eastern Europe and some places under the influence of communism or Islam The development of exchanges and correspondence enabled feminism to pre-exist the word itself which leads several contributors to ponder over its meaning as well as over the notion of influence a pivotal component of their reflection Through the complex interplay of harmony and disharmony openly acknowledged or carefully hidden similarities or differences and the delineation of the converging or conflicting forces which the authors of this volume attempt to disentangle a fascinating chorus of voices eventually emerges from this volume a preview of the budding sisterhood It throws light on the major factors in women's growing consciousness of their plight and of the main stakes in the struggle for the defense of their rights Scholars of different national origins and methodological approaches here join forces until the book itself amounts to an innovative web of exchanges and correspondences its medium as well as its avowed message Eve's apple Mary Deane, 1894 The Routledge Companion to Literature and Feminism Rachel Carroll, Fiona Tolan, 2023-12-01 The Routledge Companion to Literature and Feminism brings unique literary critical and historical perspectives to the relationship between women's writing and women's rights in British contexts from the late eighteenth century to the present Thematically organised around five central concepts Rights Networks Bodies Production and Activism the Companion tracks vital questions and debates offering fresh perspectives on changing priorities and enduring continuities in relation to women's ongoing struggle for liberty and equality This groundbreaking collection brings into focus the historical and cultural conditions which have shaped the formation of British literary feminisms including the legacies of slavery colonialism and Empire From the political novel of the 1790s to early twentieth century suffrage theatre and contemporary ecofeminism and from the mid Victorian antislavery movement to anti fascist activism in the 1930s and working class women s writing groups in the 1980s this book testifies to the diverse and dynamic character of the relationship between literature and feminism Featuring contributions from leading feminist scholars the Companion offers new insights into the crucial role played by women s literary production in the evolving history of women s rights discourses feminist activism and movements for gender equality It will appeal to students and scholars in the fields of women s writing British literature cultural history and gender and feminist studies Women and Spirituality in the Writing of More, Wollstonecraft, Stanton, and Eddy A.

Ann Heilmann,2004 The beginnings of the modern idea of feminism are usually traced to the publication of Mary Wollstonecraft s Vindication of the Rights of Women in 1792 Since then women s emancipation has been a constantly debated and topical subject This series entitled Victorian and Edwardian Anti Feminism will present the other side of the debate anti feminism more or less obviously through novels and other writings of the 19th and early 20th centuries Anti Feminism in the Victorian Novel is a collection of five rare novels depicting various aspects of the anti feminist ideology that was making a strong stand against the increasingly widespread movement towards feminism and suffrage in late 19th century Britain the debate The concept of women and the family is represented by Eliza Lynn Linton s The Rebel of the Family 1880 women and politics by Walter Besant s The Revolt of Man 1890 women in medicine by Arabella Kenealy s Dr Janet of Harley Street 1893 women in art by C E Raimond Elizabeth Robins George Mandeville s Husband 1894 and women and sex by Grant Allen The Type Writer Girl 1897 The set should be of interest to scholars of women s studies and 19th century history Literary Modernity Between the Middle East and Europe
