ITechnology and Culture There is no doubt that the growing availability of television and its technology which made it possible to report scenes instantly did have an impact on the collapse of the Soviet Union Mikhail Gorbachev decided that his country needed a dose of openness or Glasnost to modernize society and make the people more supportive of his efforts In the end more information about the outside world as well as the inside world helped to bring down the communist party and the Soviet government This book documents this process showing how the media's ready availability became such a divisive force in the Soviet Union Instead of creating a more structured rigid regime it did just the opposite The Soviet Union may well have collapsed of its own weight sooner or later but there is no doubt that the media technology and communications accelerated the process a form of uskorenii that Gorbachev never intended Many of the events described in this study have application to other researchers and government officials The study makes it possible to understand some of the new challenges that regimes wary of criticism will have to face in the future
