international law international relations theory globalization global governance and regime formation Crosscurrents
Mark Charlton,1999 Is international peacekeeping doomed to fail Does economic globalization advance the cause of human rights Does the United Nations need a radical overhaul With 18 new issues and 38 new thought provoking discussions by leading academics journalists politicians and activists the second edition of this text continues to provide an in depth look at current issues that brings to life the concepts and theories of international relations and turns classrooms into forums for debate and discussion The American Journal of Islamic Social Sciences ,1998 U.C. Davis Law Review University of California, Davis. School of Law,2001 Global Awareness Robert P. Clark,2002 This book raises students awareness and understanding of global trends forces and events by showing them how to think about the world systematically Based on more than a decade of teaching about global issues to university undergraduates the book focuses on understanding globalization and its effects on our lives The book s seven chapters cover important principles and concepts from the systems perspective such as what a system is what global systems are how and why systems grow and decline what makes global systems invisible how global issues are addressed as political questions and others Seven case studies apply these principles to global issues such as the AIDS pandemic endangered species and endangered languages global energy systems and gasoline prices contaminated food and the consequences of the terrorist attacks of 9 11 The book includes two appendices a glossary of important global system terms and a description of global systems and cyberspace including the structure and governance of the Internet Public Governance in the Age of Globalization Karl-Heinz Ladeur,2004 Globalization and its relationship to public governance is one of the key issues of our time In this book experts from a number of disciplines attempt to define what these two terms mean and perhaps even more importantly what they do not Taking as a starting point that globalization is neither the take over of political power by multi national stateless enterprises nor the chaotic unstructured process of dissolution of public order the contributors suggest that what is occurring is more institutionalized than many critics would admit It is argued that there are important transnational and supra national elements of a new public order which remain beyond the traditional borders of the state but not completely beyond the state as such Globalization as opposed to former developments in the internationalization of the economy is characterized by its transnational form i e it is based on exchange processes which to a greater or lesser degree bypass both the state and the traditional international character of the world economy of the past Confrontation and Innovation on the Korean Peninsula ,2003 Post-Soviet Policy Perspectives Alekseĭ Dmitrievich Voskresenskiĭ,1997 The Post Soviet period is of crucial importance to the remainder of the world The military political economic and social changes unfolding in Russia and it s former republics carry significant meaning and opportunities in many cases for countries outside of Russia This book blends views from outside with those inside on such hot button topics as NATO enlargement nuclear disarmament monetary policy economic security political orientations and business empowerment Ondo Journal of Arts & Social Sciences ,2003

The Future of Peace and Justice in the Global Village Thomas R. McFaul, 2006-09-30 Many authors have written on the effects technology economics and politics have on globalization but few have addressed the potential impact of world religions on the future direction of globalization The Future of Peace and Justice in the Global Village The Role of the World Religions in the 21st Century is intended to fill this vacuum It addresses the part the world s major religions will play in bringing either greater peace and justice or hatred and hostility to the global village Nationalism and Globalisation
