Formless In Form:

Formless in Form Linda H. Chance, 1997 What makes a work of literature readable This book asks that question of one of the classics of Japanese literature the Tsurezuregusa Essays in Idleness by Kenko 1283-1352 a collection of brief fragmentary reflections on a number of subjects In Japanese literary history the work is classified as one of the first collections of zuihitsu or informal essay This first extended critical treatment of Tsurezuregusa goes back to its author and his time to rebuild the discursive world of the early fourteenth century and to examine such matters as whether genre labels assist reading or obscure significant comparisons and contexts The book presents compelling arguments against considering Tsurezuregusa as an example of zuihitsu instead the text is treated as a deliberate controlled effort by Kenko to force the reader to confront the impermanent and contingent nature of existence through experiencing the text The book develops this view by studying the collaborative strategies operating between writers and readers in medieval Japan the intellectual intent and devices of Kenko's text and the many kinds of writing on which it draws We learn how a text with a commitment to shaping responses to the world is simultaneously dedicated to exploding the reader's identification with the presumably unchanging facts of existence The aesthetics of impermanence mujo central to medieval Japanese thinking emerges not only as what writing is about but also as a means to demonstrate and to encourage the enactment of aesthetics by readers Thus a work that seems formless to have little structure is shown to be so in the interest of form that is of conveying a clear meaning to its audience Or to express it with a more Buddhist inflection amenable to Kenko although the form that we can perceive is contingent on conditions and is hence formless the fact of form continues to matter absolutely Both literature and the nature of existence are readable because of the interplay of provisional and absolute truths of the writer's and the reader's approaches to texts

Unity, 1901 Georges Bataille Benjamin Noys, 2000-05-20 This is a guide to the life and work of the French intellectual Georges Bataille best known as the author of the celebrated erotic novel The Story of the Eye Benjamin Noys introduces Bataille as a writer out of step with the dominant intellectual trends of his day surrealism and existentialism and shows that it was his very marginality that accounted in large part for his subsequent importance for the post-structuralists and the counterculture in Europe and in the United States Treating Bataille's work as a whole rather than focusing as other studies have done on aspects of his work i.e. as social theory or philosophy Noys' study is intended to be sensitive to the needs of students new to Bataille's work while at the same time drawing on the latest research on Bataille to offer new interpretations of Bataille's oeuvre for more experienced readers This is the first clear introductory reading of Bataille in English challenging current reductive readings and stressing the range of disciplines affected by Bataille's work at a time when interest in Bataille is growing

Patrick Crowley, Paul Hegarty, 2005-01-01 The paper in this volume challenge the concept of form and aim to set out explore and develop different theories and examples of the formless In so doing they raise questions of form and notions of formlessness as distinct from something called the formless The starting point for many of the contributors is Georges Bataille s highly influential article entitled informe formless Here in a context where art philosophy and anthropology were merging Bataille tried to question the idea of formlessness as simply applying to things without form This book through a diversity of articles in various domains asks how and why the formless is such a dominant idea from the nineteenth century onwards and it asks the question what is formless SECRETS OF HIGHLY PRODUCTIVE PEOPLE BHUBAN

Archaism and Actuality Harry Harootunian, 2023-10-06 In Archaism and Actuality eminent Marxist historian Harry Harootunian explores the formation of capitalism and fascism in Japan as a prime example of the uneven development of capitalism He applies his theorization of subsumption to examine how capitalism integrates and redirects preexisting social cultural and economic practices to guide the present This subsumption leads to a global condition in which states and societies all exist within different stages and manifestations of capitalism Drawing on Japanese philosophers Miki Kiyoshi and Tosaka Jun Marxist theory and Gramsci's notion of passive revolution Harootyan shows how the Meiji Restoration of 1868 and its program dedicated to transforming the country into a modern society exemplified a unique path to capitalism Japan's capitalist expansion in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries rise as an imperial power and subsequent transition to fascism signal a wholly distinct trajectory into modernity that forecloses any notion of a pure or universal development of capitalism With Archaism and Actuality Harootyan offers both a retheorization of capitalist development and a reinterpretation of epochal moments in modern Japanese history Natural Religion.
