The Viewer and the Printed Image in Late Medieval Europe DavidS. Areford,2017-07-05 Structured around in depth and interconnected case studies and driven by a methodology of material contextual and iconographic analysis this book argues that early European single sheet prints in both the north and south are best understood as highly accessible objects shaped and framed by individual viewers Author David Areford offers a synthetic historical narrative of early prints that stresses their unusual material nature as well as their accessibility to a variety of viewers both lay and monastic This volume represents a shift in the study of the early printed image one that mirrors the widespread movement in art history away from issues of production style and the artist toward issues of reception function and the viewer Areford s approach is intensely grounded in the object especially the unacknowledged material complexity of the print as a portable malleable and accessible image that depended on a response that was not only visual but often physical emotional and psychological Recognizing that early prints were not primarily designed for aesthetic appreciation the author analyzes how their meanings stemmed from specific functions involving private devotion protection indulgences the cult of saints pilgrimage exorcism the art of memory and anti Semitic propaganda Although the medium s first century was clearly transitional and experimental Areford explores how its potential to impact viewers in new ways both positive and negative was quickly realized

Exploring the Complexities in Global Citizenship Education Lauren Ila Misiaszek,2019-08-14 With a focus on the Global South this book argues that awareness and discussion of the politics of equity and inclusion in global citizenship education GCE research are essential to the future of nuanced and effective research in this area The book explores the notion of heavily regulated hard spaces to examine areas of institutional blindness and reflects on ways to negotiate the issue of sensitivity in an institutional context exploring how one's sensitivity relates to pedagogy and ethics Through this in depth metadiscussion of GCE research the book provides a complex portrait of unique challenges in this domain and explores the nuanced experience of navigating temporal intersections of the global the citizen and education in geographically and thematically obstructed spaces This book will be of great interest to researchers policymakers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of global education comparative education and educational policy
