This is an open access book. The COVID-19 pandemic in the last two years has influenced how the educational system works. Online learning became the primary policy taken by all institutions in the world to lower the risk of the virus spread. Despite the drawbacks of the online learning, teachers and students were accustomed with the distant learning through web meetings, Learning Management Systems (LMS), and other online learning platforms. In that time, topics under digital learning and education 5.0 were the main stakes in academic disseminations. This year, some institutions start to conduct their teaching and learning process classically as before the pandemic, others are still continuing online, and not few are in hybrid. This leaves a question: what learning reform should be made in the post-pandemic era? This conference invites researchers, experts, teachers, and students to discuss the coping solutions of the question. It is important for them to contribute to the understanding of re-imagining online education for better futures, innovative learning design, new skills for living and working in new times, global challenge of education, learning and teaching with blended learning, flipped learning, integrating life skills for students in the curriculum, developing educators for the future, distance learning, humanities learning in the digital era, assessment and measurement in education, challenges and transformations in education technology, in teaching and learning, new learning and teaching models. It should be of interest to anyone who looks for linguistically oriented information about these questions. The book focuses on figurative language in standard English, but the analyses and explanations given should be valid also for other languages. Simile, personification, oxymoron, hyperbole, understatement, symbolic language, and punning are dealt with, and there is a chapter on rhythmical schemes, but the main part of the book is about metaphor and metonymy including synecdoche A number of theoretical attempts at explaining the character of these tropes are described and discussed A more comprehensive analytical perspective is argued for however Metaphorical and metonymic uses clearly connect to cognition and experience in general in a creative way but in this study it is also pointed out that there are obvious parallels between metaphor and metonymy and the non figurative types of relations in language systems termed hyponymy and meronymy Accordingly language users seem to operate with general types of semantic strategies
