Groupthink Irving Lester Janis,1983      SMALL GROUP RESEARCH ,1992      Cultic Studies Journal ,1995

Nonviolence Speaks Brian Martin, Wendy Varney,2003 This book addresses the power of popular nonviolent action against repression aggression and oppression A crucial aspect to effective nonviolent action is communication Activists need to be able to contact each other and to mobilize support from other parts of the world However within the nonviolence literature communication has been almost entirely neglected while within the communication literature nonviolent action is seldom mentioned This is the first major study to focus on the joint dynamics of nonviolence and communication Three case studies are examined the popular action that forced the resignation of Indonesian President Suharto in 1998 the successful people's resistance to the Soviet coup in 1991 and the successful internationally coordinated campaign against the Multilateral Agreement on Investment in 1988 In each case special attention is given to the role of communication in the struggle Attention is then turned to theory Surveys are made of nonviolence and communication theories probing for insights relevant to the nonviolence communication nexus Gradually a model for analyzing people s communication is developed The insights from theory are then used to propose a set of steps by which activist groups can analyze communication and develop effective communication strategies American Government David C. Saffell,1976 Groupthink Versus High-quality Decision Making in International Relations Mark Schafer,Scott Crichlow,2010 Are good and bad outcomes significantly affected by the decision making process itself Indeed they are in that certain decision making techniques and practices limit the ability of policymakers to achieve their goals and advance the national interest The success of policy often turns on the quality of the decision making process Mark Schafer and Scott Crichlow identify the factors that contribute to good and bad policymaking such as the personalities of political leaders the structure of decision making groups and the nature of the exchange between participating individuals Analyzing thirty nine foreign policy cases across nine administrations and incorporating both statistical analyses and case studies including a detailed examination of the decision to invade Iraq in 2003 the authors pinpoint the factors that are likely to lead to successful or failed decision making and they suggest ways to improve the process Schafer and Crichlow show how the staffing of key offices and the structure of central decision making bodies determine the path of an administration even before topics are introduced Additionally they link the psychological characteristics of leaders to the quality of their decision processing There is no greater work available on understanding and improving the dynamics of contemporary decision making Effects of Accountability on Groupthink and Intergroup Relations Marceline B. R. Kroon,1992 Images, Colours and Reflections ,2006 Introduction to Organizational Behavior Richard M. Steers,1984 Victims of Groupthink Irving Lester Janis,1972 Janis identifies the causes and fateful consequences of groupthink the process that takes over when decision making bodies agree for the sake of agreeing to abandon their critical judgment Understanding and Managing Organizational Behavior Jennifer M. George,Gareth R. Jones,1999 This text provides information suitable for both classic organizational behaviour courses and for management courses Topics covered include ethics sexual harassment cross cultural communication and negotiation Classic and Contemporary Readings in Social Psychology Erik J. Coats,1996 This collection of 30 readings pairs classic and contemporary articles on key social psychology topics to illustrate the contrast between the old and the new and thus the progress and advances of the various aspects of the entire discipline Passion, Politics, and the Past Vladimir Donskoi,2008 This book shows that foreign policy decision making is not as cool minded as it is deemed to be It analyses how the lessons of history influence decision making and argues that during crises a decision maker s affect anger and fear can bias him towards straightforward responses of the fight or flight type This insight also prompts a fresh answer to the question what analogies are likely to be picked from the vast pool of historical events a behaviourally straightforward analogies with forceful imagery and clear cut affective connotations b analogies that are already established in the political discourse c exceedingly grave analogies d many different analogies with congruent inferences Thus politicians tend to draw analogies that are affectively salient e g between Saddam Hussein and Hitler rather than factually accurate and this explains why such analogies are often farfetched The case on which the model is then tested is the U S decision making during 1st week of the Korean War This book will be especially interesting for scholars and practitioners in the field of politics as well as for everyone who wants to understand how emotions influence decisions

Organizational Behavior Michael A. Hitt, Michael Hitt, C. Chet Miller, Adrienne Collela, Adrienne Colella, 2008-10-06 Addressing the complex issues that knowledge based work organizations face in the early 21st century this text combines a managerial approach aimed to help managers meet increasingly challenging performance targets with a critical perspective that questions and looks deeper into the research behind the theories

Decision Making in Great Britain During the Suez Crisis Bertjan Verbeek, 2003 This radically new work provides an innovative approach to the question of why the Suez Crisis erupted Bertjan Verbeek here applies foreign policy analysis framework to British decision making during the crisis providing the first full foreign policy analysis of this important event Moreover the book offers a new interpretation on British decision making during the crisis Many existing studies of Suez emphasise the role of the Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and often focus on the matter of collusion with Israel This study demonstrates that small group dynamics in the institutional context of cabinet decision making in the British political system are much more important This study offers the possibility of determining more precisely the interrelationship between systemic constraints on states behaviour and the actual behaviour of states under such constraints

Mediated Political Realities Dan D. Nimmo, James E. Combs, 1990 This argues that most people learn about politics from information imparted by mass media and that our opinions are shaped by the sources of that information The authors also contend that political reality is transformed or mediated into fantasy and reality disappears
