Erotics Of Talk

John Boynton Priestley

Erotics Of Talk:

The Erotics of Talk Carla Kaplan, 1996-12-12 Is feminism in crisis With many feminists now questioning identification and focusing on differences between women what is the fate of feminist criticism's traditional imperative to rescue women's stories and make their voices heard In this provocative rereading of the classic texts of the feminist literary canon Carla Kaplan takes a hard look at the legacy of feminist criticism and argues that important features of feminism's own canon have been overlooked in the rush to rescue and identify texts African American women's texts she demonstrates often dramatize their distrust of their readers their lack of faith in the cultural conversation through strategies of self-silencing and self-talk At the same time she argues the homoerotics of women's writing has too often gone unremarked Not only does longing for an ideal listener draw women's texts into a romance with the reader but there is an erotic excess which is part of feminist critical recuperation itself Drawing on a wide range of resources from sociolinguistics and anthropology to literary theory Kaplan's highly readable study proposes a new model for understanding and representing talk She supplies fresh readings of such feminist classics as Jane Eyre The Yellow Wallpaper Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl Their Eyes Were Watching God and The Color Purple revealing how their erotics of talk works as a rich political allegory and form of social critique

Erotic Revolutionaries Shayne Lee, 2010-08-04 Why is there no pro-sex contingency in black feminist scholarship Why do so few African American scholars expound on issues celebrating female sexual pleasure Perhaps the answers to these questions reside within a discursive matrix of sexual repression commonly referred to as the politics of respectability and its rein on black sexual politics In Erotic Revolutionaries: Black Women Sexuality and Popular Culture sociologist Shayne Lee steers black sexual politics toward a more sex-positive trajectory Introducing feminist analysis to a conceptual mélange of scripting theory media representation and black sexual politics Lee considers the ways in which the feminist quest for social and sexual equality can delve into popular culture to see the production of subversive scripts for female sexuality and erotic agency Whereas most feminist scholarship underscores how sexual representations of black women in media are exploitative and problematic Lee portrays black female celebrities like Janet Jackson Beyoncé Karrine Steffans Zane Tyra Banks Juanita Bynum Sheryl Underwood and many more as feminists of sorts who afford women access to cultural tools to renegotiate sexual identity and celebrate sexual agency and empowerment Erotic Revolutionaries navigates the uncharted spaces where social constructionism third-wave feminism and black popular culture collide to locate a new site for sexuality studies that is theoretically innovative politically subversive and stylistically chic
