The Archaeology of Ritual Evangelos Kyriakidis, 2007 This book is the fruit of the third Cotsen Advanced Seminar conducted at UCLA A wide spectrum of scholars historians art historians anthropologists students of performance students of religion archaeologists cognitive scientists and linguists were all asked to think and comment on how ritual can be traced in archaeology and which ways ritual research can go in that discipline The product is a fairly accurate representation of research on ritual and the archaeology of ritual scholars from various disciplines backgrounds and agendas arguing mostly in the most logical fashion

Contesting Rituals Andrew Strathern,Pamela J. Stewart,2005 This book fills a current need in Islamic Studies for a perspective on the nuanced investigation of ritual practices rather than a concentration on politicized forms of ideology The essays in this volume all written by scholarly specialists with first hand fieldwork experience take up a number of questions central to Islamic religion and ritual focusing on rituals as practices of making identities Identities are seen as changing in response to historical forces rather than as unchanging and rigid and the overall vision of Islam is seen as pluralistic rather than monolithic Several of the essays deal with gender relations showing that women may in practice gain some prominence in local contexts beyond what might be allowed by reformist Islamicizing authorities This is particularly the case when the focus is on varieties of Sufism The essays also recognize that elements of conflict and contestation are commonly present in ritual contexts because of struggles over power hence the title Contesting Rituals Politics gender relations and conflict between central reformists and local ritual specialists are all involved in these contestations Overall the volume aims to show the multiplicity of Islam and to demonstrate how the themes of multiplicity and unity are played out continuously over time The contributors to the volume are Kelly Pemberton South Asia Anna M Gade Indonesia Susan J Rasmussen Africa Alaine S Hutson Africa Shampa Mazumdar and Sanjoy Mazumdar USA Sean R Roberts Uyghurstan and Liyakat Takim Iraq The editors Pamela Stewart and Andrew Strathern provide an introductory overview This book is part of the Ritual Studies Monograph Series edited by Pamela J Stewart and Andrew Strathern Department of Anthropology University of Pittsburgh This volume is a useful addition to literature on Islam ritual and identity It successfully investigates the plasticity of Muslim ritual on multiple axes providing historical perspectives explorations of spatial transformation and experience near ethnographic analyses Journal of Anthropological Research 2006 The contributions offer interesting insights into aspects of Muslim religious practice their situatedness in wider social contexts and change over time The Journal of Social Anthropology The reader comes away with an awareness of the complexities of being Muslim in today's world of globalization mass migration changing gender roles and continuing ethno nationalist struggles The Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute of Great Britain and Ireland     Shamanism Gary Edson, 2009 This book provides an in depth look at the beliefs and practices centered on the shaman a person believed to have powers to heal and communicate with the spirit world The work features more than 90 of the author's drawings of masks fetishes carvings and ongon and 40 rare photographs of shamans medicine men and women and healers Provided by publisher

Tantra for All: The Path of Nath Tantrika Denny Sargent,2023-04-29 The word Tantra has two important and specific meanings One is To Weave and the other is A Sacred Book of Magick What do we weave It is our innermost self our Atman or Higher Self and the magickal world of Maya swirling about us In short we embrace and change reality as we do our True Will Surprising to most Tantra does not mean sex though free flowing open spiritual sexuality is part of Tantra Tantra is occult hidden wisdom not religious worship In India Tantra is often seen as a left hand path much as Magick is viewed in the West The practice of Tantra reaches back thousands of years and predates the spread of Aryan patriarchal and hierarchical customs and strict religious edicts Tantra is Magick It is not a religion like Hinduism though both share a sometimes uneasy coexistence Hindus pray to and honor the gods at the direction of Brahmin priests while every Tantric is a god doing his or her own will and works with the gods and goddesses on an equal footing Castes taboos and proscribed sins are rejected by Tantrics Tantra is about real freedom doing your True Will as the star within you is called to do It is about following your own unique path without accepting dogma religious texts taboos or social classes It requires only a strong independent will and a fiery desire for spiritual advancement and liberation It calls for the embrace of intense practices to develop deep personal relationships with the gods and goddesses you are drawn to and the mastery of real magick to cause change in your life and the reality about you If you prefer to follow the teachings and dictates of a religion Tantra is not what you seek But if you are a unique star who wills to craft your own world with love will and magick Tantra is for you and all the gods and goddesses will aid your work Gurudev Dadaji Mahendranath summed the entire ethos of Tantra into one phrase The will to love is the law to live
